For four years, our lives are a merging of three worlds—yesterday,
today,
and tomorrow.

Our experiences at MVHS have shaped us all,
a little, or a lot.

Days of friendships shared, unequaled happiness mixed with sorrows just as intense, infatuations with people and causes that have been born and died, and those that still live on . . .

WILDCATS

All of this has molded us into what we have become today. We are not now what we were yesterday. Living each day, moment by moment, we still look to our tomorrows—learning, and preparing to meet our futures and another phase of our lives.

Days of facing impossible
tests and situations, moments of victories, personal and shared, and an hour of laughing and joking and talking with friends.
All of these things have resulted in our learning,
each experience has helped us grow as individuals, and as members of a school and a community.

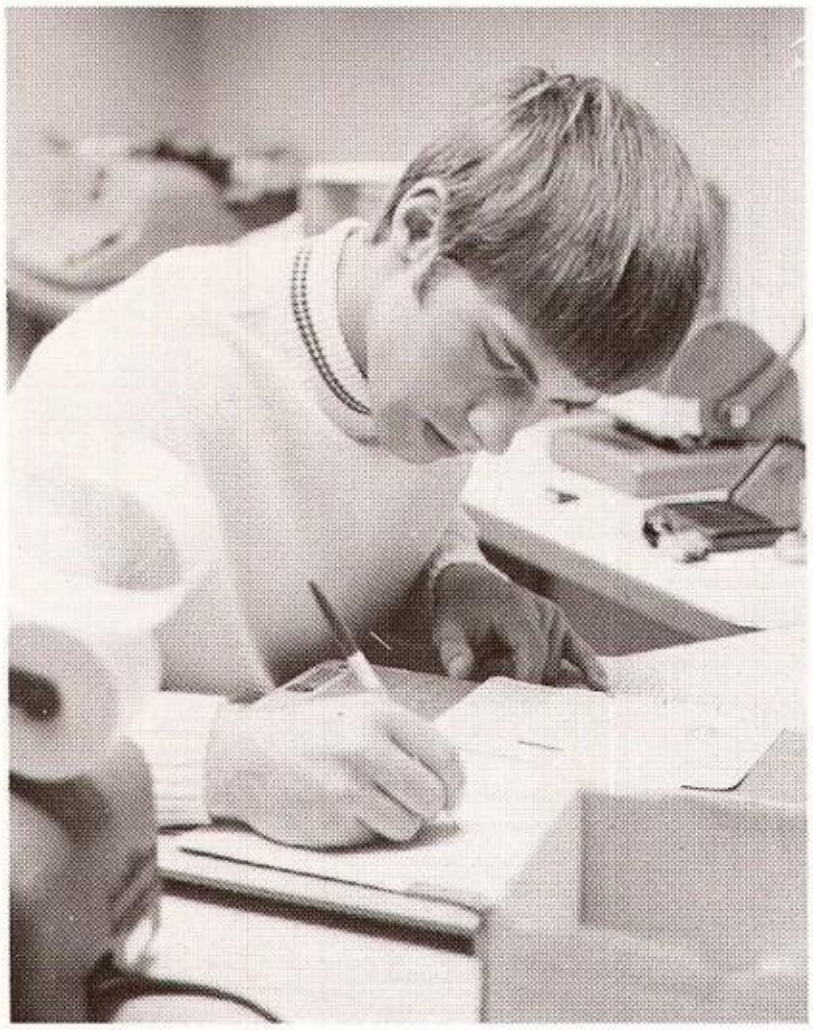
Above Right: Assistant Treasurer Barb Bruhn and Assistant Vice President Laurie Todd soon caught on to the tricks of the trade.
Above: With her giggles and clicking typewriter Secretary Colleen Miller adds an extra spark to the ASB offices.
Right: When the problems of the executive office become too much, President Mark Lange consults another great president.

Student Government Works at MVHS



Seven of the most important people at MVHS are the ASB officers. Theirs is the responsibility for the smooth running of the mechanics of the student body. The door to President Mark Lange's office was never closed, and he was always willing to listen to comments, questions, and complaints. In the Senate, Vice President Jeanne Cushman's leadership proved invaluable to the group. Her Girl Friday was Laurie Todd. Files, minutes, and Senate bills were kept in order by a busy Colleen Miller. Our classes and clubs were advised and saved from chaos by Treasurer Bruce Eastman, with the help of Assistant Treasurer Barb Bruhn and Secretary of Student Finance Jay Crawford. Those of us who needed legal advice found Attorney General Marian Fourno ready to comply.

Class Officers Share Responsibility

Throughout the year classes are called upon to organize and work for events such as Homecoming and other special projects. Leadership and enthusiasm are what it takes to get it together, and this years officers had both.

Frosh President Tom Wilson worked with Vice President Brian Rolfson, Secretary Tracy Adkins, and Treasurer Chris Hogue to make their first year a great success. Sophomores went far under President Mark Gubrud, Vice President Ryan Johnson, Secretary Joan Larson and Treasurer David Anderson. Humor and hard work were combined by Junior officers, Mark Ziegler, president; Becky Hanstad, vice president; Kim Crawford, secretary; and Val Taylor, treasurer. Making the most of their big year were senior class officers, John Van Pelt, president; Fred Knutsen, vice president; Peggy Wetsch, secretary; and Julie Walker, treasurer.

More than once, it was up to elected class officers to prod their classmates on when enthusiasm wavered. Thanks to the strong guidance they provided, funds were raised, activities were organized, and each class enjoyed a productive year.

It Takes Many to Make It Go

Legislation and the representation of students were the primary concerns of the MVHS Senate. Nearly thirty student senators participated in daily business meetings where legislative bills dealing with improvements and changes of the school were debated, passed and failed. Patterned after the national legislative body, the Senate provided great first hand experience in the processes of Democratic government. Senators learned to write bills, procedures of formal business meetings and the art of compromise. The efforts of Vice President Jeanne Cushman and advisor Dave Cornelius made Senate one of the best learning experiences MVHS had to offer.

In addition to legislation the Senate fostered school spirit in ways not earth shaking, but vital. The group sponsored a Homecoming float, officially commended the Homecoming committee, and provided entertainment through films and assemblies.

Seven judges selected by President Mark Lange and the Senate made up this year's Judicial Board. To these people was delegated the responsibility of interpreting the MVHS constitution and deciding cases concerning violations of it. Chief Justice Roger Valentine headed the Board composed of Judges Nancy Brummitt, Jeff Harris, Mitch Johnson, Jean Larson, Martin Speedy, and Silvia Torres.

Graduating Seniors Finally Realize Fou

For the class of 1974, the year was filled with activities and the realization that four years is a short time after all. Aware that the pace of a school is set by its graduating class, the Seniors began by creating a keen sense of spirit that caught up most of the school.

Homecoming week Seniors were number one in class competition. November brought the Senior Ball, planned by officers President John Van Pelt, Vice President Fred Knutsen, Secretary Peggy Wetsch, and Treasurer Julie Walker. Early in December college applications were sent, plans were made. Later the school was treated to the Senior Assembly. Months passed, and it was time for replies to colleges, parties, and caps and gowns.

Senior year was more of a feeling than a year in school. It was saying goodbye slowly to friends, experiences, and to childhood. It was a sense of nostalgia at the last football game, our very own Class Assembly, and a last joint effort to get something accomplished. There was excitement in the air, a restlessness to explore other things and to make important decisions. It was the end of today and the beginning of tomorrow.

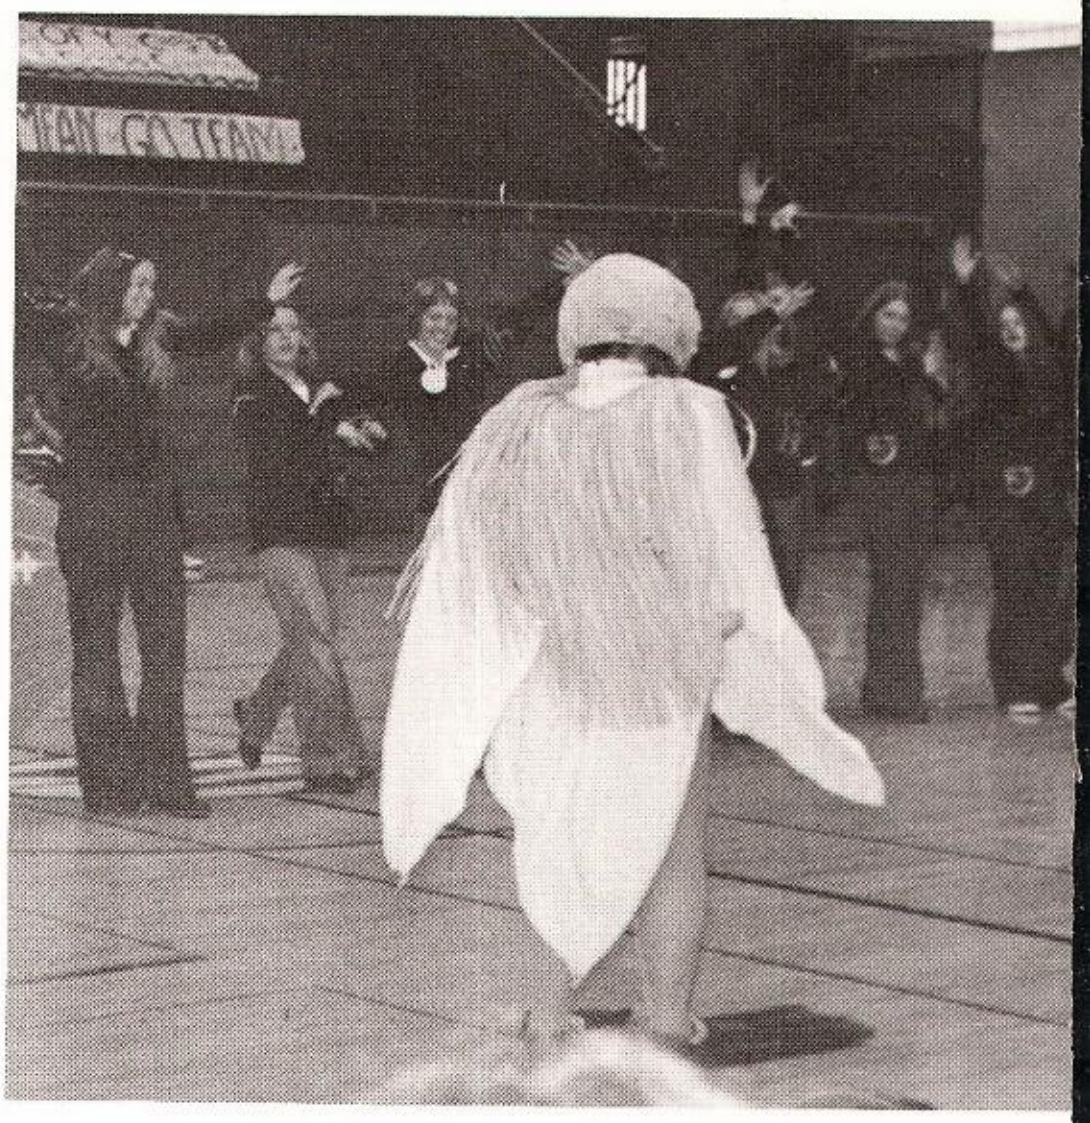
Juniors' Hard Work, Participation Prove

In their third year at MVHS, the class of '75 took their place as upperclassmen, using hard work in school related activities as an outlet for vigor and enthusiasm.

In Homecoming class competition Juniors ranked second, producing a first place float for the third consecutive year, and winning first place honors for their skit.

Talent and ambition were directed towards classes, drama, and all clubs; Juniors made up large portions of the Bulldog teams and comprised much of the Honor Roll.

May brought the Junior prom, which was the result of planning by officers Mark Zeigler, president, Kim Crawford, vice president, Becky Hanstad, secretary, and Val Taylor, treasurer. The traditional moving up assembly marked the end of their Junior year as the class of '75 progressed to the Senior section.



Throughout the year assemblies were pepped up by the Juni

Sophs Find Themselves Vital to MVHS

In their second year at MVHS, the class of '76 began concentrating on using their resources to add to the school in every aspect. They discovered that as their involvement grew, so did their fun.

Versatility was stressed as Sophomores joined the ranks in Band, became Senators, got involved in various clubs and all sports. Numerous Sophomores were found on the Junior Varsity teams and a few made their way onto the Varsity.

Homecoming week reinforced a good start when the class took second place in many of the competetive class events, and a first place class yell.

Through the concerted efforts of President Mark Gubrud, Vice President Ryan Johnson, Secretary Joan Larson, and Treasurer David Anderson, the class linked motivation, support, and cooperation to make their first years at MVHS full of memorable experiences, knowing that all too soon their high school days will be over.

New Life Opens to Frosh

Rooters busses, economic and political systems, and rushing to lockers 'way over in the gym were typical elements of Freshman year for the class of 1977.

Soon after the year began, Frosh were thrown into a flurry of activities in the form of Homecoming week. Elected officers President Tom Wilson, Vice President Brian Rolfson, Secretary Tracy Adkins, and Treasurer Chris Hogue brought their class together for the first time. Determined not to let the rest of the school outshine them, they became a part of every competitive event.

Freshman sports kept the interest of Freshman boys; girls who refused to sit on the sidelines became enthusiastic members of girls' teams. Girls' Club, Pep Club, Ski Club, and many other clubs helped to make the class of '77 a contributing part of MVHS.

Changes Major and Minor Make 1973 Homecoming Unique at MVHS

Changes major and minor made Homecoming 1973 a unique one at MVHS. As one committee chairperson put it, "We got rid of traditions that didn't fit in today and kept what was still meaningful to us." For the first time ever, Coronation took place at night and the Homecoming Dance was casual, not semi-formal. Appropriately, the theme was "A Time For Us".

Coronation of the royalty launched Homecoming on Monday. Amidst a purple and lavender decor, and to the theme music, Silvia Torres was crowned queen by Homecoming Chairman Scott Thiessen. Her court was composed of Senior Princesses Linda Caldwell and Jill Hagerty, and Junior Princesses Laura Heller and Patty Kopp.

Green and White Day, Black Day, Lettermen's Day, window displays, the car push, tug of war, and car bash gave classes a chance to demonstrate skill and strength. Class competition winners went down the line with Seniors ranking first.

Psyched by the serpentine and bonfire, and Thursday's float presentation, pep assembly, and parade, the Bulldogs "Ripped the Raiders" 14-0 that night. The Alumni Tea and Homecoming Dance, attended by a record crowd, wrapped up Homecoming 1973.

October's Bo-Gi-Ha-Pa, sponsored by the Girls' Club, was one of the year's best attended dances. Many couples brought back tradition by dressing in costumes for the occasion. Clowns, dragons, vampires, rabbits, and story book characters danced at the "Witches Brew". The "best dressed" couple, Hamp Taylor as Robin Hood and Connie Nichols as Maid Marian, were chosen Witch and Warlock.

Late in November, the Class of '74 collaberated with area schools to stage the '73 Senior Ball, "Stairway to Heaven". Formals, tuxedos, flowers, and expensive dinners were all part of the special night. Seniors Rob Servoss and Judy Cordes were chosen royalty by the Senior class.

Pep Club's Sweetheart Dance took place in mid February. The casual dance featured the announcement and coronation of Pep Queen Mary Graff, elected by the club as its most inspirational and dedicated member.

Rummage sales, dances, concessions, and Christmas baskets were all a part of the MVHS Girls' Club. Because all girls were automatically in the club, it was the largest in the school with some 600 members. Most of this years work, however, was done through the officers and cabinet of representatives. 1973-74 saw a fund raising dance, rummage sale, Bo-Gi-Ha-Pa masquerade, Cherry Tolo, and the March of Dimes Games. In the spring the big event was the Mothers' Tea and a $100.00 scholarship awarded to a senior girl. Kacie Haberly headed the club during the first semester, and was succeeded by Cathi Rogers at the second semester.

Have you heard of USA Squad? If you have, do you know its purpose? The Squad's true name is the United Sledders Association. Starting with five charter members, USA quickly recruited over 50 in its first six weeks of existence. The club was formed to stimulate interest in snow sledding, snowball fights, football games in the snow, and other snow related activities. Unfortunately, the club was disappointed by the lack of snow in Skagit County this winter.

FHA and FNA Have Similar Aims

Future Homemakers of America work with the objective of helping individuals improve personal, family, and community living. The club's year began with the annual regional meeting of home ec students from throughout the Northwest. During Christmas, FHA members assigned each other "Kris Kringles", personal Santa Clauses, and held a Christmas banquet. The FHAers also held their annual cherry pie sale, state wide spring dinner and recognition day, swimming party, and kidnap breakfast. Funds were raised through sales of stationary, chocolates, and concessions.

Those interested in the health fields at MVHS found a niche in the Future Nurses of America. The group's activities centered around candy striping at Skagit Valley Hospital six days a week, where girls were assigned duties by the nursing staff, and gained experience in aspects of the field. The group is advised by Mrs. Phyllis Pearson, district nurse; officers were Kathy Dennis, president; Patty Dubenic, vice president; Roberta Hauenstein, secretary; and Sue Van Batavia, treasurer.

Service Clubs Work for Community

Most high school clubs are concerned only with activities that benefit their own group. This is not so with Spades Club, a group that spends its time working with the handicapped, mentally disturbed, and elderly. Sponsored by the local Kiwanis Club, Spades members provided company, lent a helping hand, and arranged entertainment at the New Leaf Home, local nursing homes, and other institutions nearby. Officers Frances Reichlin, president; Florence Burns, vice president; Marlee Osterbauer, secretary; and Marie Crossman, historian; explain that "It's a very rewarding knowing that you're helping those less fortunate . . . it's fun . . ."

Another Kiwanis sponsored club, Key Club, is dedicated to community and school service. 1973-74 saw a $3,500 concession stand paid for in full through Key Club funds. Club officers Mike Gubrud, president; Rob Pratt, vice president; Jim Finch, treasurer; Mark Gubrud, secretary; and Dane Widen, chaplain; worked with their group in providing voluntary service throughout the year.

In mid November, the MVHS Ski Club came to life as ski bums emerged in anticipation of eight weeks of skiing at Mount Baker. Long lift lines, frozen toes and fingers, and some wild wipe outs did nothing to diminish the plans of avid ski club members. Original officers were relieved by a second group in January, they were President Greg Fisher, Vice President Barbie Dykers, Secretary Cindi Chabot, and Treasurer Paul Klein.

Aviation Club Gets 'Off the Ground!'

One of the newest organizations on campus this year was the Aviation Association. Officers of the club, Pilot Joel Macrander, Co pilot Matt Croghan, Navigator Mike Bjorling, Bombadeer Dave Henley, and Tail Gunner Bill Massar worked with Advisor Mr. Howard "Landingear" Brown to get the club "off the ground". Bombadeer Henley stated that the club was eager to promote flying, but that members were "a little worried about the gas shortage".

Through formal exchanges with nearby high schools, Exchange Club furthered relationships between MVHS and schools previously encountered only through athletics. An extended three day exchange with an Eastern Washington high school also took place. All exchanges allowed students to mingle on a non competitive basis, and welcomed others to visit the school.

In its second year of existence, Chicano Club was headed by President Mary Gonzalez, Vice President Joe Loya, Treasurer Rosie Gonzalez, and Secretary Anita Viscaya. The group created pride and awareness of national origin among its members, and related these to the school community. The club also concentrated on recreational and social activities.

Future Farmers of America, a group of 56 MVHS students who work through a club and classes offered here, were perhaps the most active special interest group in the school. The club, which boasts a successful past under Advisors Mr. George Mowrer and Mr. Howard Howell, hopes to build a strong foundation of agricultural and community leadership in future farmers.

A long list of the group's achievements includes 32 judging banners and five members in the state finals. Members of FFA also participated in two livestock shows and four fairs, where they dominated the dairy and sheep divisions and did well in the beef and swine divisions. Julie Smiley, who was among eight members who participated in the state FFA convention won first place in public speaking and went on to place third in sub-regionals at the state level. Kathy Wigner was awarded the State Farmer Award and was a state officer candidate.

Financially, the Future Farmers appeared to have no problems, raising $5,500 through the sale of 13,000 pounds of walnuts and filberts. The total amount invested in projects by the entire FFA group exceeds $100,000.

Twelve students participated in Debate and Contest Speaking this year, debating among themselves in class almost daily to sharpen wits and techniques. The group earned one first place and two second places in a pre-district tournament; they also competed in the Viking Invitational Tournament, and at tournaments at UPS, PLU, and Seattle U. Although Debate and Public Speaking was a class first semester, members formed a forensic society the second semester and continued the debate teams.

Lettermer's Club was revived at MVHS after being defunct for two years. President Bob Rhone, Vice President Dave Bear, Treasurer Dale Peterson, and Secretary Roger Valentine looked on the club as an organization that provided an opportunity for all lettermen to get together for activities and support of all athletics. They displayed spirit at pep assemblies and athletic contests by cheering together, and adding quite a lot to the usual rooting section of girls

Chess Club was another among newly formed MVHS clubs. As might be guessed, the purpose of the club was to foster an interest in the game of chess and to bring together those who would like to explore and play this game.

Pep Club Enthusasm, Energy Remain High

Although there was a slight decrease in Pep Club membership this year, officers Sally Chase, president; Pam Thurston, vice president; Kathy Dennis, secretary; and Kathy Maier, treasurer; felt that there was no decrease in the energy and enthusiasm that club members contributed.

Sports are definitely strongly supported at MVHS, and the Pep Club may be one reason for it. Members participated in many and time consuming activities to bolster team spirit all year. Athletes in all sports received goodies and encouraging signs from "shadows" on game and meet days, and Pep Club demonstrated unlimited support by hanging signs, organizing pep skits, and honoring outstanding team members.

Most importantly, Pep Club members were there cheering at contests from September to May, helping make a success of athletics at MVHS with unwavering dedication.

xtras Carried Out by MV Cheerleaders

Sandy Nystuen Song

Gail Johanneson Song

"Hey we're from Mount Vernon, and no one could be prouder. . ."

Yelling and cheering at games is perhaps the best way to show spirit, support and pride in a school. This years teams were made aware that they had all three of these things behind them, thanks to the efforts of the cheerleaders.

It was a hectic, busy year for seven girls. Besides their many duties, they spent a lot of time on extras—during Homecoming week the football team awoke to find signs on their doors, and the cheerleaders spent two hours in the pouring rain blowing up green and white helium balloons to release at the game. Later, the Football and Cross Country teams were treated to kidnap breakfasts.

Pep assemblies were largely the result of nervous but careful planning by the cheerleaders, and much of this year's enthusiasm and wild cheering at games can be credited to their dedicated inspiration.

Bulldogs Find Tough Competition in AAA

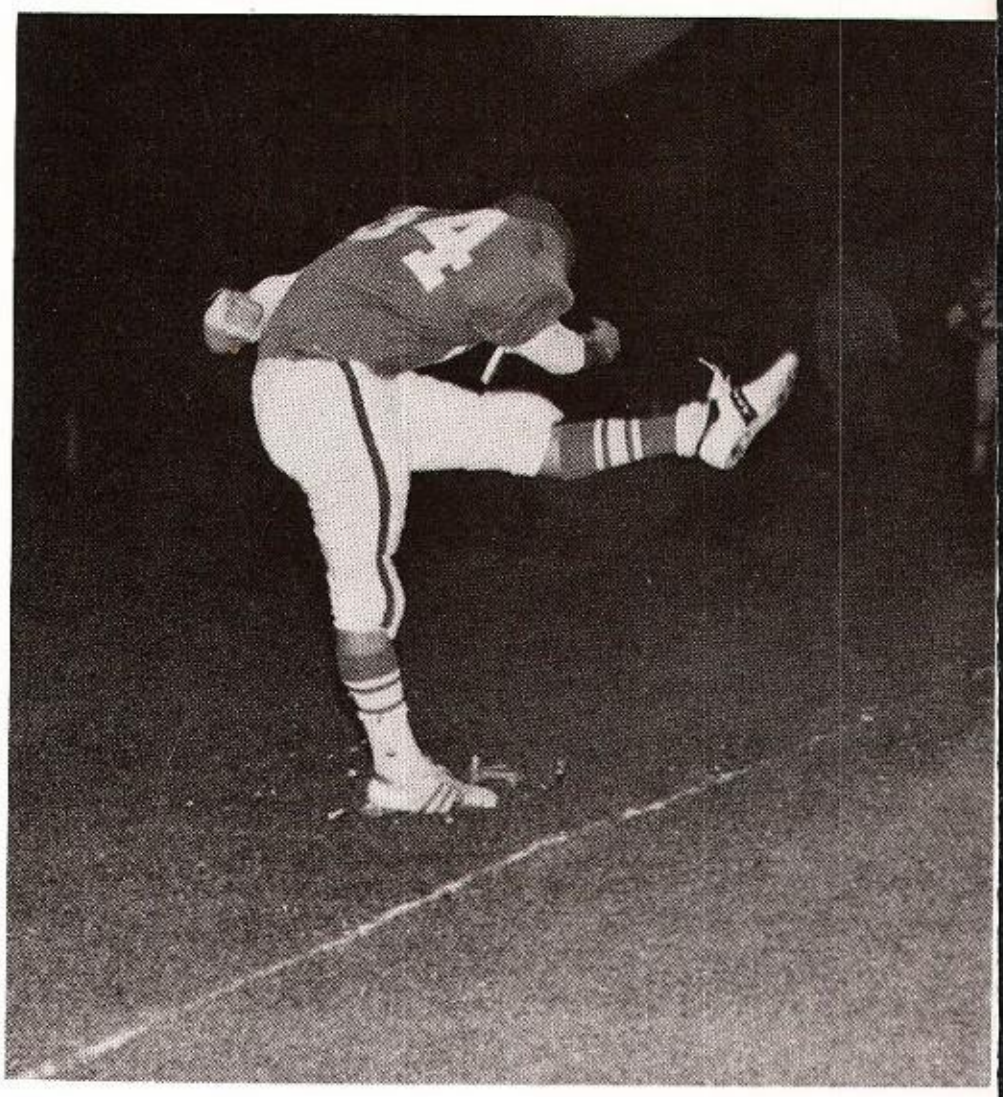
Posting a 5-5 win-loss record in the 1973 season, the Bulldogs found the new Northwest AAA league to be very competetive for all teams included in the conference.

The year's victories included a 14-0 Homecoming win over Bellingham, and the upset of the year when the Bulldogs conquered the previously undefeated league champs, Sehome. The score, an emphatic 26-8, marked the highlight of the season.

One of the finest group of Seniors to go through the campaign at MVHS were Dave Bear, Bryan Cook, Jay Crawford, Dean Cunningham, Denny Ellingsen, Steve Erickson, Monte Geerdes, Dale Peterson, Hamp Taylor, Mark Thompson, and John Van Pelt. Starting Juniors Mark Larson, Randy Hughley, Joel Suelzle, and Mark White; and Sophomores Jim Ammons, Ed Dreadin, Jeff Hughes, and Rick Guenther also contributed much to the 1973 Football team.

All Northwest positions went to Dave Bear, defensive end, and Monte Geerdes, defensive linebacker and offensive tackle. Dean Cunningham and Jay Crawford were chosen Inspirational Player and Gentleman Athlete, respectively, by the team.



Kicking specialist Bryan Cook gets the foot into it here. Scoring 61 points solely with his foot, Cook has been the best place kicker ever to play for MVHS.

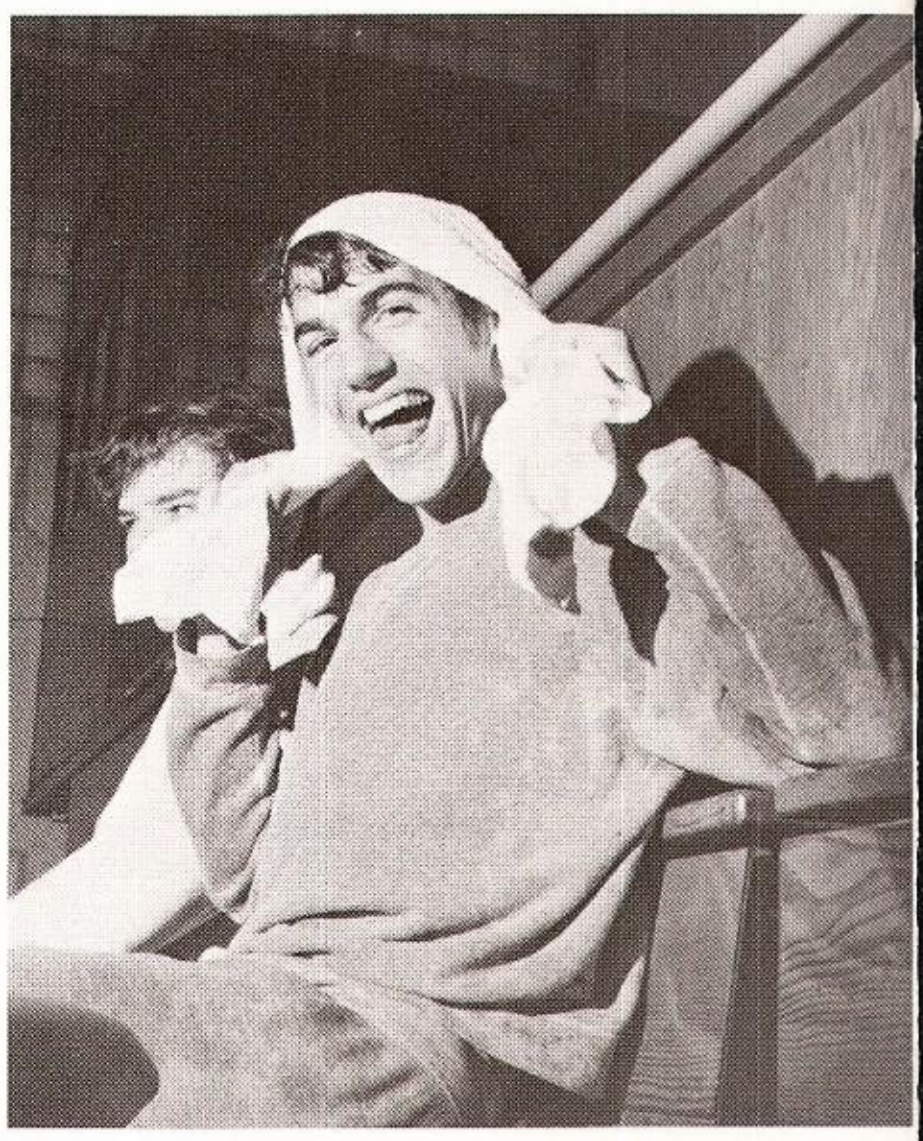
CC Runners County, League Champs



Running both before and after school for a total of 15-20 miles every day is not common procedure for most people. But this is exactly what many dedicated MVHS Cross Country runners do to be successful in this once unheralded sport.

The help of Coach Darrell Pearson, and a lot of willingness and stamina made winners out of the guys on the 1973 Cross Country team, and the record shows it. Standouts such as "star" Jeff Keeton, Bill Erspamer, Rob Servoss, and Fred Knutsen, along with the rest of a very able squad saw to it that the MVHS team won all but one regular season meet, and took both County and League championships. The team also placed sixth in the District meet, despite new and very tough competetion.

Wrestling Team Plagued With Many Injuries

Varsity Coach Paul Reiman and his wrestlers consider the '73-'74 season was plagued with injuries. Few matches saw a full starting team to wrestle the opposition. Near the bottom of the standings when dual meets were over, the Bulldogs surprised everyone when they took a strong third place in the District League Tournament. Known throughout the North-west, Coach Reiman evidently refused to give up his fine reputation.

First place tourney wrestlers were Senior Kevin Mendoza and Junior Dan West. Others giving outstanding performances were Seniors state competitor Steve Erickson, Dean Cunningham, Scott Higgins, Roberto Garcia, Monte Geerdes, and Don Rice; Juniors Warren Gilbert, John Viscaya, Jose Loya, and Sophomore Marvin Anderson.

Lack of Height No Trouble for MUHS Varsity Basketball Squad

When basketball turnout began this winter, Coaches Dave Quall and Mick Vevian thought that they were going to be in for real trouble because of the team's lack of heighth. However, the Bulldogs proved that all those worries were in vain when they ended the season 4th place in their league. The Bulldog strategy, which worked out great success, was to create a fast running game and run their opposition right into the ground. They also employed a relentless defense that never gave the other team a free moment. This strategy, and a psyched up team served to give league leaders rough competiton. The closest games of the season were with 1st place Anacortes, and 2nd place Oak Harbor.

Seniors on thes year's Varisty team were Fred Knutson, Scott Hatcher, Bill Erspamer, and Captain Roger Valentine. Starters returning next year are Juniors Joel Suezle, and Mark Larson, and Sophomores Jay Duffy and Rich Guenther.

Swimming proved itself to be one of the strongest sports at MVHS by turning in an undefeated season of dual meets. The highlight of the season came when the Bullfish pulled out a 1 point victory over 2nd place Mariner High School.

Coach Perry Brown believes this year has been one of the strongest he has seen. The performances of Bob Rhone, who placed 3rd in the Regional meet on the diving board, state contender Jerry Byfield in the backstroke, and the record breaking relay team of Karlen Walser, Randy Hughley, Steve Dundin, and Jerry Byfield supported his statement. The MV swim team placed third in the regional meet.

Graduating Seniors were Steve Dundin, Stedem Wood, Jerry Byfield, Bob Rhone, Steve Lingberg, Bruce Eastman, Mike Scott, Keith Olds, and Jeff Fisher. Juniors who did well were Karlen Walser, Randy Hughley, Stan Olson, and Dan Hewitt. Sophomore standouts were Bob Reehorn, Kevin Moore, Ken Hewitt. and Jim Follman. Good performances were also by Kevin Hanson and Chris Pierson, who proved himself to be one of the best swimmers on the team.

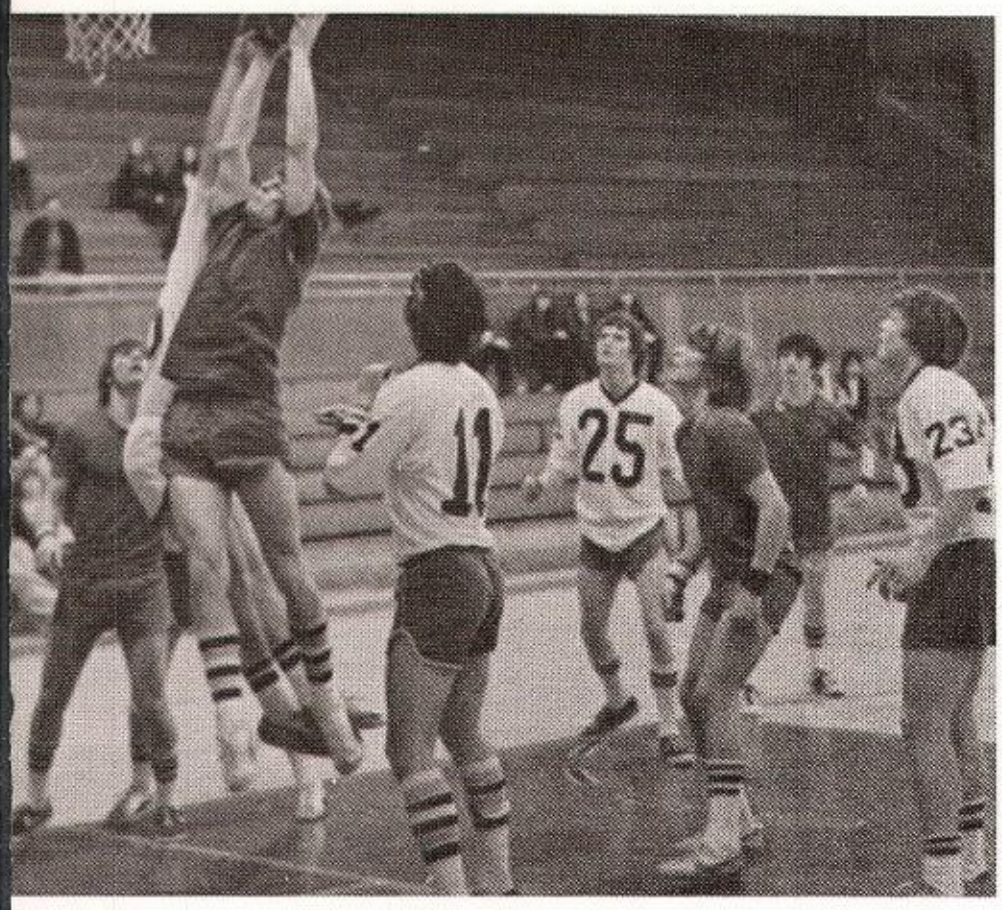
Intramurals Prove 'Steam Valve' for Boys



During winter months, some guys like to relax after a strenuous football and cross country season. Intramural basketball, organized by Mr. Larry Godden, provided an opportunity for games that were not on such a highly competitive level to be played.

This year's number one team, a group of Senior boys whose official team name was "Hall's Balls", turned in an undefeated season of very convincing wins. Other teams putting in good seasons were the Gunks and the USA Squad.

Intramural volleyball started during the fall of the year and resulted in a whopping success. Those involved seemed to have a great time playing the game which turned out to be hard, but fun work that kept those who weren't participating in fall sports in shape.

Girls' Sports Gain Support, Enthusiasm at Mount Vernon

A combination of hard work and merriment was expressed by this year's girls' tennis team, coached by Kaye Shaw. Senior players were Roxann Polmateer, Tami Adkins, Julie Bradford, Diane Prohaska, and Cindy Greydanus, two year Inspirational Award winner. Other players included Leslie Mitcham, Lisa Schroeder, and Katie Gurney. Playing on new tennis courts, the girls accumulated a three win, three loss record for the season. Increased attendance showed that girls' sports also have their place at Mount Vernon High School.

Girls' volleyball will have its complete starting team back next year. Going through a building year was difficult but a good experience for the team. Compiling a 1-11 win-loss record, the team had many close games and showed a lot of talent for the future.

Seniors leaving are Judy Tillman, Terrie Hutchison, and Lynn White, Inspirational Award winner. Other varsity players were Captain Barb Bruhn, Nancy Kercheval, Kim Crawford, Cindy Chabot, Kerri Bartram, Connie Nichols, Diane Radcliffe, and Lori Tausher.

Acting ability was revealed in the fall when "Flowers for Algernon" was performed on stage. The play, about a retarded man named Charlie, was directed by Mr. Joe Daman. Mark Ziegler, cast in the lead role, produced a very convincing portrayal of a man who was given hope of a higher IQ through experimental surgery, but eventually reverted back to his former self. As the play progressed, Charlie became more attached to the other half of the experiment, a rat named Algernon, whose progress paralleled his. Thespians' Reputation Is 'Somewhat Eccentric'

Members of MVHS' Thespian Troupe 207 have acquired the reputation of being somewhat eccentric. Perhaps, as club President Mark Ziegler observes, it is because of the "pep skits, the strange initiation rituals, or weird behavior around school . . ." All Thespians have been directly involved in school production, and have earned a required number of points before becoming eligible for membership. 1973-74 activities featured the Robert E. Lee birthday party picnic, initiation of new members, and the Little Academy Awards.

Radio Club members strove to "provide a high quality, entertaining, educational, and most of all, fun radio show." Under the supervision of Mr. Mark Pearson and co presidents Jeff Larson and Dave Henley, members of the club programmed and broadcasted a popular, weekly radio show. A club and class, Radio Club gave students the freedom to plan and produce a radio program that reflected school interests.

Eligible for Thespian membership, Will Thornton and Jamie Kahle are subject to some strange initiation procedures before becoming full fledged members.

Publications Tell Full Story of MVHS

The editors of Skagina 1974, Anne Lenning, Diane Prohaska, and Silvia Torres concentrated on emphasizing the prominence of three phases of life experience in high school. An awareness of what each individual was when he or she arrived, an enjoyment of the present, and a preparation for the future are strongly highlighted during the four years spent at MVHS. The three editors were helped in their tremendous job by Senior Editor Mary Beth Hughes, Sports Editor Monte Geerdes, Business and Advertising Manager Liz Brannan, and Junior Editors Karen Reep and Val Taylor.

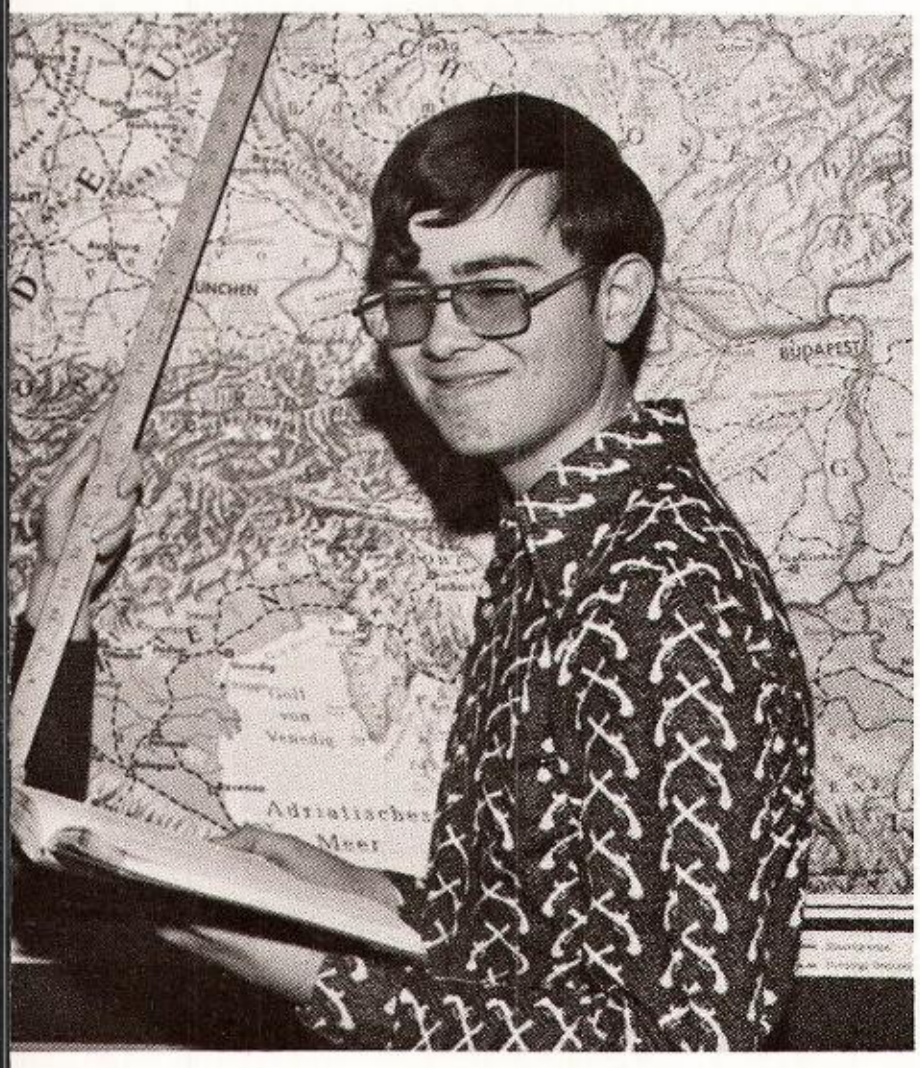
Discover New, Unusual, Exotic Foods



Centered around an interest in German language and culture, German Club involved its members in a wide range of activities. President Diane Johnson, Chancellor Kevin Montgomery, and Vice Chancellor Debbie Prestmo began the club activities by preparing 57 Christmas baskets for local nursing homes. German cooking and traditions were observed at the annual Weinacht Fest, and at a baking party where advisor Herr Walters and Frau Walters gave expert advice.

French Club, too, devoted itself to exploring another culture. The club held dinners where French cuisine was featured, and club meetings included French pastries. French penpals, pictures, movies, and parties were also included. According to club president Julie Bradford, the club "appeals to people because of the delicious French food." Other officers were Vice President Janie Erspamer, and Secretary-Treasurer Cathi Rogers.

Cherry tree and fruitcake sales paid off for 105 band members this year when the group's new colonial style uniforms arrived in January. The unusually large number of students involved allowed the band to divide into two quality groups: the Symphonic Wind Ensemble, open by audition only; and the Concert Band, open to all students who played a band instrument.

Extremely active, the bands contributed to community and school affairs year round. Homecoming activities, pep rallies, assemblies, halftime shows, and various parades all benefited from band performances.

Traditional concerts given at Christmas, in early spring, and in May were all successful. As the final highlight of the year, the band was one of six in the nation invited to attend Expo '74 in May.

Music plays an important role in the general education of the student at MVHS. Fortunately the department's musical facilities and instructors are both above average and conducive to growth in all musical aspects.

Under the direction of Mr. Charles Easton, Orchestra members worked towards a mastery of their instruments and playing techniques. The group performed at concerts held throughout the year and added to the fine musical reputation of MVHS.

Campus Choir's 20 members, directed by Mr. Greg Tiemann, rehearsed daily and never stopped trying to develop their vocal talents further.

Many Talented Students Are Members

Concert Choir, also directed by Mr. Greg Tiemann, consisted of approximately 50 members, many of whom were also members of either Swing or Campus Choir. The group spent the year concentrating on improvements, and striving for vocal perfection.

The 30 members of the school's Swing Choir spent the year performing for many community programs, and concerts of their own. Admittance to the choir was by audition only, and limited to students in band or another of two choirs. Swing Choir specialized in modern numbers made popular by famous rock groups and soloists. A major disappointment for the choir came when a planned trip to Hawaii for a Swing Choir convention was cancelled due to lack of funds and conflicting schedules.

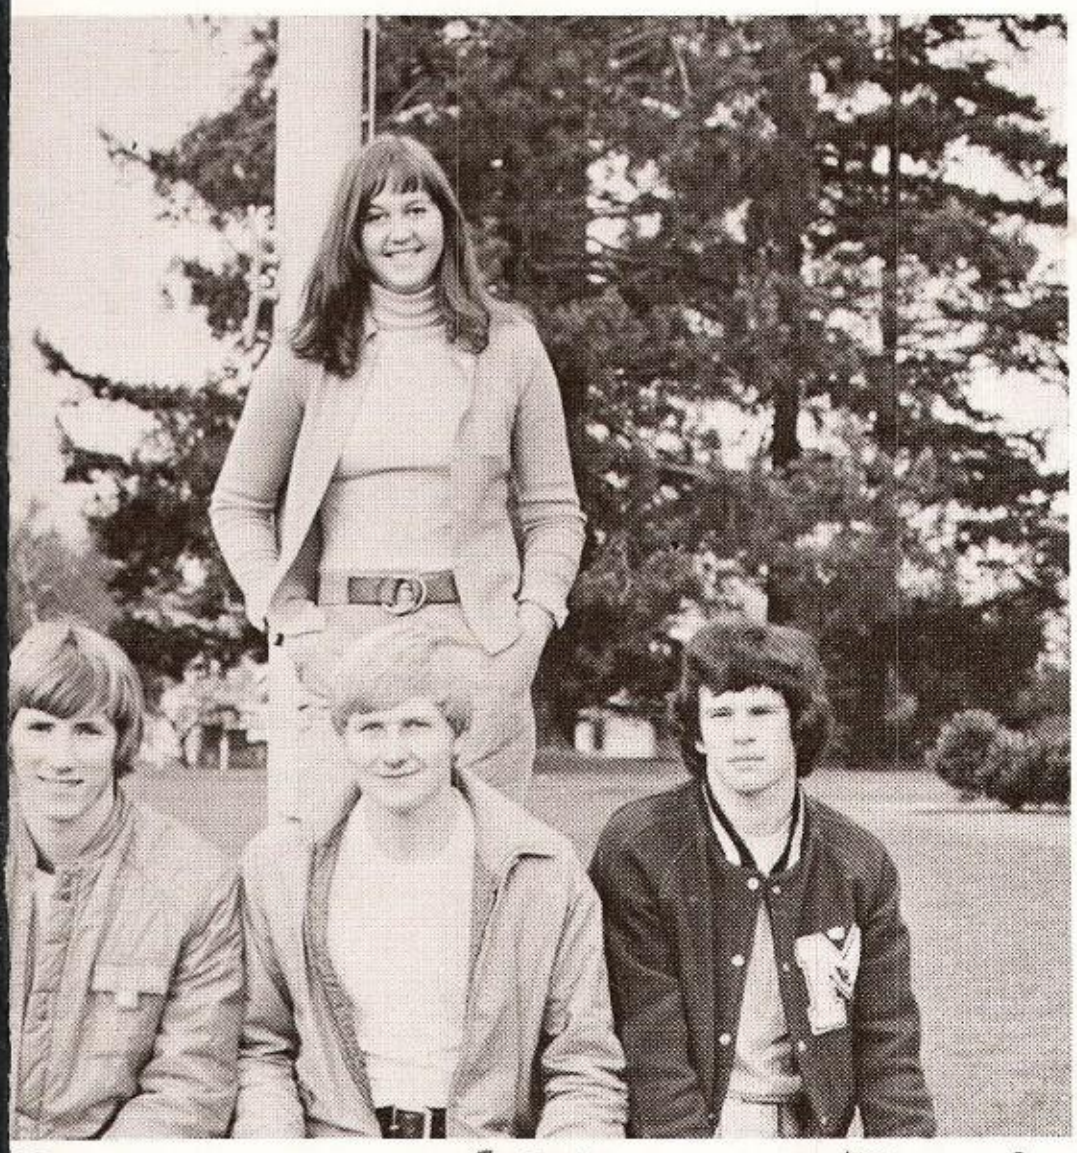
Majo



Perhaps because its members were so preoccupied academically, the Honor Society as a group did not have an active year. Made up of Sophomores, Juniors, and Senior Torch members, all of whom maintained a 3.2 grade average, Honor Society was led by officers Jay Crawford, president; Mitch Johnson, vice president; and Grace Johnson, secretary.

Ten Seniors whose grade point averages were highest in the class received special recognition for excellence in their scholastic work.

Four representatives of the class of '74 attended Girls' and Boys' State in the summer of '73. There they had the opportunity to experience government and democratic procedures along with other students from throughout the state.

School Leaders Have Time for Students

Dr. William Haglund School Board

James Hobbs School Board President

Administrators of any school are concerned with its smooth functioning, and at MVHS they are no different. Besides administrative duties, those in charge at the school are very aware of and involved with students and their activities. Generous with their time, Superintendent Thomas Pollino, Principal William Gurney, and Vice Principal Hal Ellis are readily available to students and always willing to listen. Virtually no one is turned away from their offices with questions unanswered, and though the answer is often "no", the fact is that the lines of communication are wide open.

Behind the scenes but still indispensable is the School Board. Headed by James Hobbs, the Board is responsible for decisions that directly affect the student body.

An atmosphere of genuine concern and informality makes the counselling department one of the most important and effective at MVHS.

Counsellors Mrs. Frances Leander, Mrs. Alma Murray, and Mr. Merle Suelzle are instrumental in helping students choose courses and iron out problems both academic and personal. Freshmen relied on counsellors to help them adjust to the new world of high school; Sophomores and Juniors developed their curriculum and talents under their interested guidance; and finally, Seniors made important decisions about college and immediate futures with their encouragement, advice, and counsel.

Mrs. Phyllis Pearson, the school nurse, provides services for the entire district besides looking out for the health and safety of students at MVHS. As advisor to the Future Nurses Club, Mrs. Pearson has also seen to it that its members gain experience and insights of the profession.

No student passes any year without having spent time in the Social Studies department. Courses dealing with political and economic systems, western civilization, U.S. history, and current problems insure that students receive a broad historic background. An awareness of government and politics both in the U.S. and throughout the world is a part of almost every class and contributes to the liberal education offered to students.

The library facilities of MVHS have been enriched with the addition of numerous audio-visual materials which span a variety of subjects. Students and teachers who lean toward individualized or independant instruction feel that they are a very helpful addition to the existing resources the library provides.

Science Quarter Classes Diversified

Like many others, the Science department diversifies and allows students to concentrate in the areas of their interest by making quarter Science classes available. Courses encompass many aspects of the field, and an area can be explored as lightly or thoroughly as the student desires. Some classes are supplemented with practical experiences such as Bush Trips and the Outback Trip, where learning is put to the test.

Mathematics rank high among those courses considered to be the most challenging. Logical minds at MVHS can choose classes from pre-algebra to fifth year math.

Every facet of secretarial and business experience is developed in the Business Education program. Work experience still provides excellent training, and prepares students for the business world.

Basic Skills Prepare Students For Life in the World They Face

MVHS is not only a place where students gain scholastically, it is somewhere to have fun while learning a few basic skills that prepare students for going out into the world and facing life.

Vast changes took place in the PE department this year as the program was put on a quarterly system. For the first time students were able to choose from a wide variety of PE classes and responded with enthusiasm.

Home Ec classes were among the first to fill on registration day. Formerly designed exclusively to teach cooking and sewing, Home Ec classes now place more emphasis on home and family life.

Vocational work experience allows students experience in assuming the responsibilities of a job.

The fine Agricultural program has gained more interest from students, both male and female, over the past few years.

The Industrial Art classes are proving to be an asset to students in future jobs.

Music classes provide the students with enjoyment along with hard work and discipline. Precision is the key factor, marking the difference between a good performance and a fair one.

Participating in music and art allows students to express creativity, but it is also necessary to concentrate on more basic subjects.

Included in the curriculum at MVHS are classes designed to encourage creativity.

The art department seems to be flourishing as the interest of students increases. Quarterly classes were offered this year, allowing students to choose a more varied schedule. Several new classes were also successfully introduced.

The English program at MVHS continues to expand, adopting new classes to meet student requests. Freshmen English was changed this year, adding more variety.

Foreign languages present a challenge to any student who tackles them. Memorizing dialogues and pronunciation help develop sharp minds.

Right: Mr. Greg Tiemann and his band never fail to add their touch to every home game and pep assembly.

It Takes Many to Operate Efficiently

Without the efficiency of the secretarial staff, the attendance, athletic, administrative, and counselor's offices could not function with the ease that they do. Familiar faces to the entire student body, the school secretaries can take the credit for organized offices and smooth procedures.

Making sure that the vending machines are kept full and that the cafeteria remains an enjoyable place in which to eat, are the cooks. This year their specialty was cinnamon rolls on Mondays, Wednesdays, and Fridays. Important to the maintenance of the school, the work of the janitorial staff is evident in clean MVHS buildings and campus. Neither rain nor snow (hardly) ever keeps a busdriver from his appointed rounds. These people who drive busses may very possibly know where every student at MVHS lives.

The job of editing a yearbook is something that can never be comprehended by those that haven't experienced it. As editors, our goal was to depict the 1973-74 school year as accurately as our resources allowed, and to make coverage of people and events representative of the student body. Unfortunately, we were restricted by things over which we had no control, such as choice of photographs, unforseen obstacles, and untimely deadlines.

We thank all of you who appear in this book for your patience and co-operation during picture taking sessions, and we thank the faculty for their understanding when this involved missing classes. Many thanks to our staff, who were too often subjected to yelling and short tempers, and too seldom thanked—Business and Ad Manager Liz Brannan, Sports Editor Monte Geerdes, Class Editors Senior Mary Beth Hughes, Juniors Karen Reep and Val Taylor, Sophomore Joan Larson, and Freshman Carrie Bacoka, Ad Salespersons Lisa Vivian and Dave Schroeder, and, finally, photographers Bruce Eastman, Staci Lisherness, and Chris Reynolds.

Others whom we would like to thank—our advisor, Mrs. Chic, who always managed to smooth the rough edges, yearbook representative Milt Bean, Mrs Stone's typing class, and the merchants whose ads appear in this book. We also thank the janitor for the privilege of locking up on the many times we remained in an empty school, and Mr. "T", the night watchman whom the police assured us is official.

Our sincerest hope is that through this Skagina we have produced something that will never fail to evoke those special and personal memories that we all have of MVHS.

I am not afraid of tomorrow

For I have seen yesterday,

And I love today.
